

Flowers

SAVING YOUR SANITY, ONE LIST AT A TIME

PREMIER BRIDE®

BELLEFIORFLORIST.COM / ERIKADIAZPHOTO.COM

©2025 PREMIER BRIDE OF SOUTHEAST WISCONSIN | PREMIERBRIDEWISCONSIN.COM

belleforflorist.com / erikadiazphoto.com

TYPES OF bouquets

YOUR BOUQUET SHOULD COMPLEMENT YOUR DRESS STYLE

As possibly the single most important design detail of the ceremony, you don't want to hide the specialness of your dress with the wrong bridal bouquet. A cascade bouquet could overwhelm a simple sheath dress, while a contemporary design won't be a good match for a classically designed ball gown. Consider the size and style of flowers each type of bouquet calls for and ask your florist how it will work to compliment your dress.

ROUND BOUQUET

A larger version of the Posy, this bouquet traditionally contains one or two types of flowers arranged in a perfect dome shape. Roses and hydrangea are the perfect flower to keep this uniform and symmetrical.

FLOWERS: BELLEFIORFLORIST.COM
PHOTO: CHRISTIELIZABETH.COM

POSY, NOSEGAY OR CLUTCH BOUQUET

A very small tight bouquet of flowers without a lot of extra greenery. This petite, round bouquet can usually be held in one hand and is perfect for bridesmaids, mothers; in lieu of a corsage or an informal bridal bouquet for an elopement or trip to the courthouse.

PHOTO: CANVA.COM

SINGLE STEM BOUQUET

Simplistic yet striking bouquet choice, a single stem. Make the most of this budget friendly option by choosing a large, full bloom, like a hydrangea or peony, especially for a large bridal party.

FLOWERS: SIMPLYFLORALSBYAMANDA.COM
PHOTO: ANGELFACEPHOTOGRAPHY.NET

CASCADE BOUQUET

Forward facing with a full top and narrowing vines that waterfall to the bottom. Can be more dramatic and highlights the overflow of beautiful blooms or a tiny handful fit for a royal princess. Perfect for a seasonal mix of garden flowers with beautiful greenery help to fill out this style of wedding bouquet.

FLOWERS: BELLEFIORFLORIST.COM • PHOTO: DEGROOTFILMCO.COM

FREE-FORM, UNSTRUCTURED BOUQUET

This style is intentionally asymmetrical and predominately horizontal. On trend with a bo-ho vibe this bouquet often features all types of botanical elements; fresh flowers, foliage, dried grasses, pods and even fruit).

FLOWERS: BELLEFIORFLORIST.COM
PHOTO: GEORGIA-LLOYD.COM

flowers

for the
MODERN COUPLE

FRESH FLOWER WEARABLES!

Wow...just Wow!

The bride, Jessie, has a keen eye for detail and wanted to include unique and personal details in every aspect of their wedding day. She was interested in a non-traditional approach with unique wedding flowers. Emily, owner and designer at Belle Fiori, suggested wearables and the design ideas took off from there! Each of the brides' attendants were given their own specific & intentional designed floral piece. These stunning works of art were created using Astrantia, Lisianthus, Butterfly Ranunculus, Stock, Spray Roses, and Hypericum Berries.

DELUXE CORSAGE

This exquisite corsage was again designed with the gown in mind and featured Hypericum Berries that dangled just so off the shoulder.

FRESH FLOWER EARRINGS

The floral earrings were designed with the knowledge that the attendants' hair would be pulled up and that the gown she was wearing was off the shoulder.

FLORAL ARM BAND

This arm band design used custom wire that wrapped the delicate flowers up the attendant's upper arm.

FLORAL TATTOO

Each attendants' gowns were considered in the design of these floral tattoos that are created using double sided athletic tape. Another design decision was to make sure the attendant's real tattoo was not covered up.

FRESH FLOWER LAPEL

This attendant had a full lapel design which was attached with six magnets. The color of the piece popped beautifully on the lighter jacket.